Welcome

Since our last Tax Disputes Masterclass in early 2023, we have seen further increases in the volume and complexity of tax disputes. With several significant cases having been decided or making their way through the courts and several more important issues emerging from review and audit activity, new technical and strategic considerations have arisen. For taxpayers and advisors alike, uncertainty regarding the application of various tax laws coupled with well-resourced and more sophisticated regulators continues to create a challenging tax dispute environment.

This year's Tax Disputes Masterclass in Sydney will provide delegates with unique insights and practical guidance in seeking to avert, manage and resolve tax disputes. Once again, we are honoured to treat delegates to a highly-respected and diverse range of speakers, including experienced members of the tax bar, senior ATO officers and leading tax dispute lawyers. The program promises to deliver an invaluable and fascinating Masterclass for in-house and professional tax advisors.

On behalf of The Tax Institute and the organising committee, I am honoured to welcome delegates to our 2025 Tax Disputes Masterclass. I look forward to seeing you all for what I'm sure will be a very enjoyable event.

Keith Swan
Chair, Intensive Organising Committee

Technical program

Day 1 Thursday, 6 March 2025

Time	Session
8.00 – 8.25am	Registration
8:25 – 8:30am	Welcome and opening address Speaker: Keith Swan, KPMG, Chair, Intensive Organising Committee
8:30 – 9:30am	Session 1: Special leave to the High Court – What gets through and what doesn't Speakers: Cassandra Franklin, Australian Taxation Office, Chris Peardon, FTI, New Chambers 2024 has been another significant year for tax cases across the Australian court system. At the time of publishing, the High Court has granted special leave in PepsiCo , recently handed down a judgment in Automotive Invest , and refused leave in SingTel and Hayes . The Federal Court has also handed down judgments in Ausnet , Esso Australia , Ierna , Maguire , Merchant , Minerva and Mylan (amongst others). In this session, we will discuss reasons for the Commissioner or taxpayers seeking special leave, which cases have special leave granted, and which cases have special leave refused by the High Court.
9.30 – 10.30am	Session 2: Tax litigation – Key considerations for advisors Speaker: Jeremy Geale, CTA, MinterEllison Federal Court litigation is a long and slow process with many strategic, technical and procedural considerations. Important decisions must be made right from the start of a tax dispute under Part IVC, including settling the grounds of an objection. This presentation will discuss this process and the key considerations advisors should consider at the outset of a litigation process, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• What is the appropriate forum for this dispute?• How do I discharge the relevant burden of proof for my matter?• Are there appropriate arrangements in place to manage any existing debts that have arisen from amended or default assessments?• Who will be involved from start to finish (counsel, lay witnesses, independent experts); and• Who are the relevant stakeholders whose decisions will impact this process?
10:30 – 11:00am	Morning tea
