Welcome

YVTR 2025 – Tax is like a box of chocolates ... but with knowledge and planning, you can know what you're going to get!

The Yarra Valley is known for its beautiful scenery and its tasty produce, including premium chocolates.

Opening a box of chocolates and taking your pick or going with a random choice can be delicious! A unique or new flavour can delight your palate. Old favourites can bring back fond memories and make us appreciate the work of experienced chocolatiers. In contrast, unique and new taxes can be a cause of grave concern for taxpayers, whilst old, recurrent tax issues can leave a bitter taste in their mouth.

Our Retreat Organising Committee welcomes you to this year's Yarra Valley Tax Retreat. We'll help you to temper your clients' concerns by bringing you across some of the latest issues in tax and arming you with leading edge, practical knowledge.

Located in the gorgeous Yarra Valley region at the Balgownie Estate, our program provides a box full of premium tax sessions. Our excellent presenters will share their knowledge and experience during our valuable technical sessions, with genuine insights to guide us in applying our complex tax laws in practice. Through our interactive workshops, we'll apply our new knowledge to bring it all together (the tax equivalent of ensuring the perfect 'snap', and avoiding chocolate bloom and excess bitterness).

Our first three sessions this year will focus on property taxes (perhaps likened to planting and harvesting the best cacao beans, and extracting cacao butter and cocoa cake) before we flow into a stream of frothy hot topics that include delving into debt tools and strategies, and the ever-present themes of residency and succession planning. Finally, we will wrap up with the after-dinner-mints of tax; extracting private wealth, and making and correcting GST mistakes (how best to treat sugar bloom or redeem mildly burnt chocolate).

Our three workshops will add flavour and further substance to the content covered during the technical sessions, providing delegates an opportunity to consolidate their knowledge and apply it to practical case studies.

We also look forward to networking, relaxing, unwinding, and dining within the brilliant surrounds of the Yarra Valley at our retreat dinner!

Regardless of whether you love chocolate, our 2025 Yarra Valley Tax Retreat Organising Committee looks forward to seeing you in July!

Technical program

Day 1 Thursday, 24 July 2025

Time *AEST	Session
9:00–9:30am	Registration and light morning tea
9:30–10:00am	Welcome and opening address Speakers: Rachel O'Donnell, CTA, Chair, Retreat Organising Committee, Tim Sandow, CTA, President, The Tax Institute
10:00–11:00am	Session 1: Taxation and the property development lifecycle – Pre-acquisition to disposal and everything in-between Speaker: Prudence Barker, VIC Bar The Victorian property market is bursting with a fusion of competing factors, sparking questions as to whether the worst is over. One thing is for certain, the taxation of small-scale property developments is not getting any simpler! This session will work through various stages of the development lifecycle highlighting key considerations, such as income tax, GST, and basics of state tax considerations. Join us as we work through the practical implications of small-scale property developments, answering questions such as, what happens if an expected sale doesn't go through? And, what are the implications of a change of intention?
11:00am–12:00 pm	Session 2: Empty homes and headaches – Victoria's latest taxes Speaker: Andrew Spierings, VIC Bar The landscape of state taxes is continuously evolving, with new taxes being introduced and existing ones expanding. One such change is the Victorian Vacant Residential Land Tax (VRLT), which, could now potentially apply to any residential land in Victoria. Further expansion is set to take effect 1 January 2026. In this session, you'll gain a clear understanding of the VRLT, including practical examples that illustrate when it may apply, the circumstances under which you could qualify for an exemption, and proactive measures to prevent the tax from affecting you. Even if you're not based in Victoria, this session is still invaluable. Given the potential for other states and territories to introduce similar legislation—just as we saw with foreign owner surcharges in the past—it's important to stay ahead of these changes. Additionally, we'll provide a brief overview of the new short stay levy, often referred to as the "Airbnb tax," to keep you informed of other emerging tax developments. Don't miss out on this opportunity to stay ahead of the curve!
12:00–1:00pm	Lunch

Technical program

Time *AEST	Session
1:00–2:00pm	Session 3: CGT common Issues – A ‘grab bag’ of challenges and opportunities Speaker: Michael Parker, CTA, Hall & Wilcox Lawyers Capital Gains Tax (CGT) is fraught with complexities, and even the most seasoned tax practitioners can encounter unexpected hurdles. In this practical session, Michael will delve into a collection of common CGT issues, uncovering hidden traps and opportunities that may arise in practice. With the Small Business CGT concessions under increased ATO scrutiny, understanding the nuances of the eligibility criteria is more critical than ever. This session will revisit the key eligibility requirements for these concessions and explore other common CGT pitfalls, including using the small business restructure rollover (Subdivision 328-G) incorrectly and misapplication of the market value substitution rule. With a practical, solutions-focused approach, this session will equip you with strategies to navigate these issues with ease and ensure your clients can effectively access CGT relief where available.
2:00–3:30pm	Workshop 1: Growing cacao beans to extracting cacao butter and cocoa cake Workshop Leader: Daniel Angelovich, Forvis Mazars Workshop Facilitators: Prudence Barker, VIC Bar, Michael Parker, CTA, Hall & Wilcox Lawyers, Andrew Spierings, VIC Bar Our first workshop will take us through the full journey from growing cacao beans to extracting cacao butter and cocoa cake. Well not literally, this is after all a Tax Retreat. As such, we will be working through several case studies providing practical examples of the small-scale developments lifecycle and broader issues associated with the ownership of property in Victoria, including navigating through the rocky road of Victorian State tax issues. Finally, should we be lucky enough to find the golden ticket and be assessed on capital account, we will work through a practical, solutions-focused approach to equip us all with strategies to navigate through the curly GGT provisions. This workshop will tackle many burning questions including the age-old question whether it is possible for to have our cake and eat it too? Or as they say in France “Vouloir le beurre et l’argent du beurre” translating literally to “To want the butter and the money from the butter” or in our case cocoa butter.
3:30–4:00pm	Afternoon tea
4:00–5:00pm	Session 4: Succession planning – The ATO is watching Speaker: Laura Hussey, ATI, KHQ Lawyers In light of remarks made by Louise Clarke (Private Wealth Deputy Commissioner ATO) earlier this year regarding her priorities for 2025, there can be no better time to attend a session on the tax risks associated with succession planning. This presentation will touch on those areas in tax that commonly feature when planning to keep wealth in the family by passing it on to the next generation, such as the Small Business CGT Concessions, Division 7A, Family Trust Elections, provisions applying to trusts and more.

Day 2 Friday, 25 July 2025

Time *AEST	Session
8:30 – 9:30am	Session 6: Tax residence planning – Inbound and outbound Speaker: Denise Honey, CTA, Pitcher Partners With an increasingly mobile workforce and complex tax laws across borders, proper planning for changes in residency is essential. This session will consider several tips and traps including (but not limited to): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Residency and temporary residency for individuals and fact patterns that might indicate a change. • Commencement and cessation of Australian tax residency and temporary residency and key watch-outs. • Tax treaty tie-breaker provisions for individuals. • Dealing with related structures such as companies, trusts and retirement funds.
9:30 – 10:00am	Morning tea
10:00 – 11:30am	Workshop 2: The chocolate ganache session Workshop Leader: Paul Hockridge, CTA, Hockridge Advisory Workshop Facilitators: Megan Bishop, Piper Alderman, Denise Honey, CTA, Pitcher Partners, Anna Longley, Australian Taxation Office We will cover a lot of ground in our second workshop! We'll kick off by delving into a practical application of the CGT small business relief provisions, with the myriad of issues to consider in the context of an asset disposal. We will then examine the ATO's current approach to debt collection and how it demands a new response from advisers, including what to do when your client receives a Director Penalty Notice. The chocolate ganache for this workshop will involve a deep dive into the nuances of tax residence planning, where there are various choices and elections that require consideration, which we will overlay with the complexities of residency tie-breaker rules and other interesting issues, such as whether Div 7A can apply to loans from a foreign family company.
11:30am – 12:30pm	Session 7: Extracting private wealth from private companies – Look before you leap Speaker: Rob Warnock, CTA, Harwood Andrews Our tax system ensures that a company is not a personal bank account or cash box to be dipped into as and when required without tax implications (whether we understand them or not). In tough economic times, the temptation is to not pay close enough attention to the tax pitfalls in accessing wealth located within a company or a corporate structure. This session looks at the tax hurdles to successful wealth extraction.
12:30 – 1:30pm	Lunch

Technical program

Time *AEST	Session
1.30 – 2.30pm	Session 8: How to treat sugar bloom or redeem mildly burnt chocolate – GST corrections, adjustments, and other changes Speaker: Rachel O'Donnell, CTA, O'Donnell Tax Law Everyone makes mistakes sometimes – even the most compliant taxpayers and the best advisors! This session delves into an area that gives rise to common misconceptions and concerns. How should taxpayers correct GST mistakes? Are all mistakes created equal, or are some more significant (requiring a different approach) than others (spoiler alert – different mistakes and changes can require different approaches)? What GST impacts do bad and doubtful debts have for our clients? Common adjustments and corrections are sometimes simpler (or more complex!) than they might appear at first blush. It is crucial that we guide our clients in the right direction when these issues arise. Rachel will also discuss the importance of the ongoing monitoring and broader consideration of our clients' enterprises and their purposes, to provide the best vantage point from which to proactively address any changes of purpose and other changes that can alter our clients' registration and compliance requirements and entitlements.
2:30 – 3:30pm	Workshop 3: After-dinner mints Workshop Leader: Karen Goodfellow, CTA, Goodfellow Tax Advisory Workshop Facilitators: Rachel O'Donnell, CTA, O'Donnell Tax Law, Rob Warnock, CTA, Harwood Andrews We will wrap up the YVTR with a third and final workshop. We will use a case study to demonstrate the successful and tax effective extraction of wealth from private companies, and what hazards await those who (mistakenly) treat the resources of their company as if they were their own. We will also embark on the murky world of correcting GST errors, oversights and changes in circumstances. Is an amendment to a previous BAS called for, is there in fact an adjustment event that must be dealt with in the current BAS, or is there a change that does not result in any adjustments, corrections, or amendments? Our workshop case study will cover all of this and more, all applied in a practical context.
3:30pm	Closing address and networking drinks
