Welcome

The QLD Tax Forum returns in 2026 with a refreshed format, continuing to focus on the issues that matter most to you. Join us for two days of technical insights, thought-provoking discussion and valuable networking with peers at the event where Queensland's tax community connects.

This year's program features a full agenda of topical sessions designed for advisers working across private business and corporate tax, alongside a dedicated Next Generation stream introduced for 2026.

Hear from industry experts on the key issues shaping practice today, with practical sessions covering restructures and rollovers, franking credits, property development, navigating ATO disputes, personal services income and GST, as well as corporate topics including the Interest Limitation rules, Pillar Two, Country-by-Country Reporting and more.

Across both days, our keynote speakers will tackle some of the profession's biggest conversations, including tax reform with Tax Wars author David Montani and the implications of AI on the profession. Delegates will also hear from experienced practitioners in the inaugural 'Red Flag Round-Up' panel, sharing practical insights from the front line of practice.

The new Next Generation stream has been designed specifically for emerging tax professionals, with sessions focused on navigating ATO disputes, identifying the real issue behind a client's question and building foundational technical capability through topics such as CGT fundamentals.

With flexible registration options the event offers opportunities to tailor your attendance while connecting with peers and building valuable professional networks.

We look forward to welcoming you to Brisbane for what promises to be an engaging and thought-provoking event.

Day 1 Thursday, 28 May 2026

Time *AEST	Session
8:00 – 8:45am	Registration
8:45 – 9:00am	Welcome and President’s address Speakers: Jodie Robinson, CTA, Co-Chair Forum Organising Committee, Tim Sandow, CTA, President, The Tax Institute
9:00 – 10:00am	Session 1: Keynote address – The bluster, bulldust and bedlam behind Australia’s tax reform gridlock Speaker: David Montani, CTA, Grant Thornton Australia’s tax system is widely acknowledged as complex, inefficient and overdue for reform, yet meaningful change remains stubbornly elusive. In this keynote presentation, Tax Wars author David Montani shares his expert insights from inside the tax reform battleground and discusses reform rhetoric versus political reality, including key takeaways from the 2026 budget. Drawing on the central themes of Tax Wars , David will unpack the forces shaping Australia’s reform trajectory, what recent policy decisions reveal about government priorities, and critically, what this means for advisers navigating uncertainty and guiding their clients in an evolving tax landscape.

Time *AEST	SME Stream	Corporate Stream
1:30 – 2:30pm	Session 4A: What’s hot in property – Property developer, property investor or leisure property? Speaker: Sian Sinclair, CTA, Grant Thornton As property values rise and structures evolve, the ATO and courts are increasingly challenging whether activities are truly investment, development or something in between, with significant tax consequences depending on where the line is drawn. This session will discuss: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recent ATO guidance, including TA 2026/1 and PCG 2025/D7, and what it signals about compliance focus areas • The critical distinction between property development and mere subdivision – and when capital gains treatment may be at risk • Joint venture versus partnership – Why the legal form and underlying substance matter for tax outcomes; and • Key cases, including Morton and recent ART decisions, and their implications for when investment properties may be treated as trading stock. 	Session 4B: CbCR in the spotlight Speaker: Emily Falcke, CTA, PwC Australia With the first short-form local file lodgements fast approaching and public country-by-country reporting now a reality, multinational groups face heightened transparency and little margin for error. This session will discuss: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Preparing for the first short-form local file lodgements, including timing, scope and practical challenges • Disclosure expectations for restructures and how much detail is required to satisfy ATO requirements • Early insights and lessons learned from December and January year-end lodgements • The implications of public CbCR and the increased reputational and compliance risks for corporate groups
2:30 – 3:30pm	Session 5A: Navigating ATO disputes in a changing environment – Part I Speakers: Fletch Heinemann, CTA, HLS Tax Law, Sarah Lancaster, HLS Tax Law The ATO dispute landscape for SME groups has shifted. Reviews are starting earlier, information requests are broader and more forensic, and restructures and governance arrangements are being tested against commercial reality – not just technical form. The session will walk through the dispute lifecycle – from first contact and information requests through to position papers, assessments and objections – with a focus on managing scope, controlling narrative and avoiding unnecessary escalation. We will also address the commercial realities: cost, settlement posture, and managing client expectations in a higher-scrutiny environment. Designed for accountants and lawyers advising SME groups, this session provides practical guidance to help you identify emerging risk, strengthen governance before issues arise, and position disputes early to reduce time, cost and reputational exposure.	Session 5B: Tax Governance in practice Speaker: Kara Singleton, ATI, Deloitte ATO assurance expectations are rising, and governance is no longer a “set and forget” exercise. This practical session focuses on how organisations can confidently move toward Stage 3 with real-world implementation strategies. This session will discuss: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • ATO assurance reviews and the push from Stage 2 to Stage 3 • Implications of the different ATO governance ratings • The design and implementation of stage 3 requirements • Managing the cost of testing and when external assurance is needed • Practical pathways to move from Stage 1 or 2 to Stage 3 • Governance as an ongoing investment, not a compliance tick-box • Differences in ATO approach to governance between public and private groups; and • The relevance of the Supplementary Annual GST Return – lessons from first-year lodgements

Time *AEST	SME Stream	Next Generation Stream
10:30–11:00 am	Morning tea
11:00am–12:00pm	Session 9A: GST – Basics that are never actually basic Speakers: Louis Carney, RSM Australia, Sam Mohammad, RSM Australia GST is often treated as “tick-the-box” – but the “basics” are where advisers still get caught. This session revisits the core GST framework and shines a light on the rules that are often forgotten, glossed over, or applied by habit, creating avoidable risk in everyday SME work. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Registration and enterprise fundamentals – When you’re really carrying on an enterprise, group/entity boundaries, and why this matters • Taxable supply vs GST-free vs input taxed supplies • Common traps in applying the going concern provisions • Is your client intending to use the margin scheme later? What information do they need to get now? • Creditable purpose & apportionment – Mixed-use expenses, private components, and “close enough” methods that don’t hold up; and • A checklist of the recurring ‘gotchas’ to test on every SME file as a part of practical GST hygiene. 	Session 9B: How to spot the real issue behind the client question Speaker: Tom Walrut, FTI, Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers Clients rarely ask the “right” question, they ask the question that feels immediate. Our value as tax adviser’s is diagnosing what’s really going on. What is the hidden tax issue, the commercial driver, the missing facts, or the risk that will surface later? This session is a practical toolkit for advisers to move from answering questions to solving problems. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • From question to diagnosis and how to separate symptoms from the underlying issue (and avoiding the “quick answer” trap) • The fact-finding framework (who/ what/ when/ why) – The documents to request, and the missing pieces that can change outcomes • Issue-spotting and recognising common “hidden” themes (entity mismatch, timing, characterisation, connected parties, cash vs accrual reality) • Risk triage – Determining what’s urgent vs important, and how to frame risk without alarming the client • How to ask better questions, reset assumptions, and manage expectations in plain English • Turning analysis into advice and the process of moving from the initial question, to options, recommendations, and clear next steps; and • Protecting the file (and yourself) – Documenting assumptions, scope boundaries, and why the client’s original question wasn’t the real one.

Day 2 Friday, 29 May 2026 continued

Time *AEST	SME Stream	Next Generation Stream
12:00-1:00pm	Session 10A: Payroll Tax - The hidden cost of people Speakers: Liam Cooke, Qld Revenue Office, Ieuan Murphy, QLD Revenue Office This session will guide you through the essentials of payroll tax. Covering the basics, key updates for the 2026 financial year, and the compliance model, this session will highlight common pitfalls, detection methods, and practical strategies to stay on top of your obligations.	Session 10B: Borrowing, interest deductibility & debt events - Interest isn't automatic and debt doesn't just disappear ... The year end journal trap clinic Speaker: Stephen Holmes, CTA, WMS Chartered Accountants Borrowing is routine but the tax outcome rarely is. Interest deductibility depends on the facts - why the funds were borrowed, how they were actually used, and what evidence exists to support the nexus. Then come the "debt events" that tax advisers can often treat as accounting tidy-ups: waivers, write-offs, refinances, loan variations and forgiveness. This session is a practical trap clinic that connects the legal/commercial reality to the tax rules, with a focus on the issues that quietly create (or mask) problems and later become painful to unwind. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Interest isn't automatic - What are the core deductibility tests, how to trace and identify use-of-funds, and what breaks the nexus• Timing and substantiation - When are deductions actually available, and what to have on file• Related-party funding reality checks - Documentation, terms, and when "it's just a loan" becomes a tax issue• Debt events that change everything - The impact of variations, releases, waivers, refinancing, forgiveness and "debt doesn't just disappear; and• The debt forgiveness rules - The practical flow-on impacts for related parties that advisers sometimes miss (losses, cost bases, future deductions.)

Time *AEST	SME Stream	Next Generation Stream
2:00 – 3:00pm	Session 11A: Losses – We’ve got losses, so we’ll use them..” Speaker: Michael Garrone, CTA, Mage Advisory Clients hear “losses” and assume they can be cashed in whenever profits return. In practice, losses are conditional: the right entity must own them, the right tests must be satisfied, the activity and ownership history matters, and one “minor” action/restructure can quietly switch them off. This session is a practical guide to separating losses that are real and usable from losses that look good on paper but can’t be accessed when it counts. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Losses aren’t a credit balance, tax advisers need to identify what type of loss exists (revenue vs capital) and where it sits (entity-by-entity), and what can and can’t be offset • How to prove the loss position – What records, calculations and assumptions you need before you tell a client their losses are “usable” • Company losses in the real world – Continuity vs “same or similar business” thinking, and the common ownership/activity changes that quietly deny access • Trust losses without the pain – Is there an Family Trust Election? What are the key trust loss tests? How important are historical distribution patterns, and documentation gaps that can trip you up • Restructures and group changes – How “small” changes (new shareholders, new income streams, entity swaps) can reset the loss story; and • Integrity and review risk flags and the patterns that attract attention and how to keep positions commercially coherent and defensible. 	Session 11B: CGT 101 – But only the parts that keep tripping us up Speakers: Kara Bentley, Elda Legal, Natalie Cameron, CTA, Elda Legal CGT feels familiar ... Until a “standard” transaction throws up characterisation, timing, cost base or documentation issues that change the outcome. This session is a practical refresher on the CGT fundamentals that most often trip up advisers in SME files, with a focus on the questions you need to ask early and the evidence you need to support the position. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Asset and transaction characterisation – CGT vs revenue, active assets vs passive, and when it changes • Timing traps – HOA vs contract date vs settlement, earn-outs, options, and when the event actually happens • Cost base and records – Common omissions, improvement costs, incidental costs, and reconstructing evidence when records are thin • Main residence & property “usual suspects” – Partial use, foreign residents, absence rules, subdivisions, and mixed-purpose properties • CGT discount issues – Eligibility and the “surprising” exclusions that get missed • Small business CGT concessions (high-level triage) – Basic gateways, red flags, and when to escalate; and • Review-ready CGT files – A checklist of information and evidence to keep on record to simplify future CGT calculations and reduce audit risk.
3:00 – 3:30pm	Afternoon tea
3:30 – 4:30pm	Session 12: Red flag round up Panellists: Sally Preston, CTA, Smart Solutions Tax and Business Advisory Facilitator: Jodie Robinson, CTA, McCullough Robertson Advising private client groups is rarely just about technical correctness. It involves navigating incomplete records, family dynamics, legacy structures, commercial pressure and increasing ATO scrutiny. This practical panel session focuses on real-world experiences in dealing with private clients, the scenarios that regularly arise, the red flags that advisers encounter in practice, and how those issues are best managed before they become disputes. Rather than a purely technical analysis, the discussion will centre on how matters actually unfold, including: what clients say (and don’t say), where documentation gaps appear, how risk is identified late, and how advisers balance technical integrity with commercial and relational realities.
4:30pm	Forum close
